MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

SUBJECT: Congressional Breakfasts

1. Two different Congressmen have approached friends in the Agency to say they would like to learn more about the organization, and in one instance to say they would like to be in a position to protect the Agency when it is attacked on the Hill. I agreed to see each of them and because it fits in better with their schedule, have set up breakfasts here in the building.

2. On 10 October Congressman John Lindsay, Republican, of the 17th District of New York, is being brought to breakfast by

[redacted]
[redacted] You will recall that Lindsay has introduced a Bill for a joint committee on intelligence and has made several critical statements about us. We tried to persuade Lindsay to come down through our Legislative Counsel but got nowhere through this channel.

3. On 11 October Congressman William S. Moorhead, Democrat, of Pittsburgh, Pa. (14th District) is coming to breakfast with [redacted] Moorhead was one of the Democrats that previously came down in a large group and is basically considered friendly.

4. If on either morning you deem it appropriate or could spare the time, you might drop down to the dining room when you come in just to say hello to these men. I am hopeful these visits will produce good results, and will plan to devote as much time as the Congressmen are willing and will be as candid as possible.
